

MULTITUDES OF TVET COLLEGE CERTIFICATES HAVE BEEN CLEARED AND ARE READY FOR COLLECTION.

The Department of Higher Education and Training (DHET) has been working tirelessly in collaboration with College Management, the State Information and Technology Authority (SITA) and the quality assurer UMALUSI, in a massive mop-up project to clear outstanding NC (V) certificates for Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) Colleges going as far back as 2007.

Since 2016, DHET has managed to process and release large volumes of pending NC (V) certificates on a weekly basis to colleges. So far over 250 000 certificates have been administered and cleared by UMALUSI. Furthermore, all the November 2016 TVET college examination results have been certified in accordance with national policy requirements for the issuing of certificates within three months of the publication of results. These exclude additional certificates that are still pending due to procedural irregularities such as data capturing errors and authentication of identity numbers and other personal information. All the backlog and current certificates have since been dispatched and distributed to individual TVET colleges.

Students are advised to approach their colleges to verify the availability of their certificates and, if not available, to immediately lodge queries with college management. Colleges are expected to immediately report queries on certificates directly to DHET for further investigation, whereafter affected students will be notified by their respective colleges on the outcome of their queries.

Meanwhile the Department has made substantial progress in a parallel project initiated to accelerate the issuing of outstanding National N Diplomas and it is expected that all applications received up until 31 March 2017 will be finalised by no later than the end of July 2017.

This article forms part of a media release by the Department of Higher Education and Training on 8 June 2017